CARISSA LE TOURNEUR

Hi, I'm Carissa. I am currently a third-year Psychology student at the University of Pretoria with a passion for learning and helping others reach their full potential. I aim to create a supportive and comfortable learning environment where students feel able to ask questions, work through challenges and develop a deeper understanding of their subjects. By tailoring my approach to each student and the way they learn best, I hope to make learning more meaningful while helping students build confidence in their academic abilities. I believe that academic confidence and well-being are closely connected, and that feeling capable and supported can make a meaningful difference in a student's learning experience. Outside of my studies, I am usually nose-deep in a book, at the gym, or being a socialite with my friends. I enjoy learning new things, spending time with others and keeping active.
