TAYLA WARREN

Hi, I am Tayla. I am currently a student at University of Pretoria, majoring in Education and Psychology. I am passionate about helping learners build confidence and reach their academic goals in a supportive and encouraging environment. I am patient, well-organised, and enjoy adapting my teaching style to suit each learner's individual needs. I believe learning should be engaging and interactive, and I aim to create a positive space where students feel comfortable asking questions, developing new skills, and growing both academically and personally. Outside of tutoring, I enjoy all forms of exercise, from swimming to hiking, especially within nature.
