NINA DIPPENAR

Hi! My name is Nina and I'm currently studying a BSc in Human Physiology, Genetics and Psychology at the University of Pretoria. I achieved six distinctions in matric and tutor Maths, Afrikaans and Life Sciences. I'm passionate about helping students improve their marks while also building confidence in their abilities.

My tutoring style focuses on strengthening core concepts first. I break concepts down into simple, understandable steps and build from there so that students develop both confidence and independence in their learning. I aim to create a supportive environment where students feel comfortable asking questions and developing their problem-solving skills.

Outside of tutoring and studying, I enjoy going to the gym, practicing Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu and trying to learn Norwegian.
