KYE-ANN FOWLER

Hi, I'm Kye-Ann! I am a first-year BSc Mathematical Statistics student at the University of Pretoria with a genuine love for mathematics. I enjoy the challenge of working through complex problems and find it incredibly rewarding when difficult concepts finally click into place. My tutoring philosophy is rooted in understanding the "why" behind maths, rather than just memorizing formulas, and using targeted practice to build confidence and solidify understanding. Outside of academics, I'm an avid swimmer who loves staying active to keep a clear, fresh mind. In my free time, you can also find me drawing or reading.
