Marné van Greuning

Hi, I'm Marné. I am a friendly, patient and hardworking person who genuinely enjoys helping others understand difficult concepts. I have always enjoyed Maths and working with numbers, which led me to study Financial Risk Management at Stellenbosch University. What I enjoy most about helping people is seeing the "light bulb moment" when something finally clicks. I especially enjoy when someone initially tells me that a concept is too difficult and then seeing them realise that it is actually not as hard as they thought.

I am currently studying BCom Mathematical Statistics with a focal area in Financial Risk Management at Stellenbosch University. I achieved 6 distinctions in Matric, including 80% for Maths, 87% for Accounting and 83% for CAT, and received a Gold Certificate for consistent academic achievement. At university, I have achieved a 72% annual Mathematics average, 76% for Probability Theory & Statistics and 99% for DLA (Excel module)

I believe that understanding why something is done a certain way is more important than simply memorising a method. I therefore break difficult concepts into smaller, manageable steps and explain them in a way that makes sense to the student. I am patient and approachable and understand that everyone learns differently. My goal is not only to help learners get the right answer, but also to help them build the confidence to realise that they can understand and solve the work themselves.

In my free time, I enjoy running, travelling and spending time with my friends and family. I also love going to wine farms, walking in Jonkershoek and visiting places with beautiful views of the mountains or ocean.
